Commissioner Stephen Wolfram

Like many residents of Florida, Steve Wolfram is a transplant from the land up north. He was born 58 years ago in Brooklyn, New York and grew up in Long Island.

After taking college business courses, Steve joined the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and spent three years in France building roads on various military bases. After the Army, Steve began working in the credit and collection industry in 1964.

In 1972, the allure of sunshine and no snow was overwhelming, so Steve moved to Pompano Beach. He and his wife Sharon stayed busy with two daughters and two sons, but Steve always found time to be involved in their various activities as a Cub Scout Leader, helping out with Brownies, gymnastics, Pop Warner Football and Little League Baseball. In 1979, the Wolframs migrated north to Central Florida and, in 1986, started their own company, Liberty Collection Bureau in Altamonte Springs.

Steve and his wife have lived in Altamonte Springs since 1991. He has been an active member of various City Boards and Committees, including Board of Zoning Appeals, Planning Board, Personnel Administration Board and the Redistricting Committee. His volunteer efforts extend well beyond city boundaries. He served as a member of the 17-92 Redevelopment Committee, Member and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Director of the Board of Directors for the Better Business Bureau of Central Florida and Vice-President and Director of the Florida Collectors' Association.

But of all his accomplishments, Steve is proudest to be a grandfather to four of the most beautiful, well-behaved, perfect grandchildren anyone could want.
